TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

This is to confirm that [REDACTED], as a registered student in good standing in the University of California, plans to participate in the University of California's Education Abroad Program at the National Autonomous University of Mexico in Mexico City for the 2016 Fall academic term. The Fall academic term runs from July 1, 2016 through December 10, 2016.

[REDACTED] will be concurrently enrolled in a program at the National Autonomous University of Mexico and the University of California, in accordance with an exchange agreement between these institutions. Tuition will be paid by the student to the University of California.

The student will apply the credit abroad toward the University of California degree and is not seeking a degree from the host institution.

It has been shown to the satisfaction of the University of California that the student has sufficient funds for accommodation and maintenance and to be financially secure while participating in the Education Abroad Program.

The student will be covered by the mandatory, UCEAP travel insurance policy. Coverage under this policy is effective fourteen (14) days before the official start of the UCEAP program and ends thirty-one (31) days after the official end date of the UCEAP program. The policy covers eligible medical expenses in the amount of $500,000 per occurrence. It includes emergency medical evacuation, and repatriation of remains, in addition to non-medical benefits (e.g., trip delay, personal property, etc.). There is no deductible or copay. The terms and conditions of coverage are detailed in the Master Policy ADDN 04834823 underwritten by ACE American Insurance Company, Philadelphia, PA, and issued on behalf of the University of California.

Sincerely,
